

The New Era

DEVOTED TO NEWS, POLITICS, LITERATURE, SCIENCE, EDUCATION AND AGRICULTURE.

VOL. VIII. NO. 84.

NEWMARKET, C. W., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1859.

WHOLE NO. 898.

Blanchard Directory.
John T. Stokes,
COMMISSIONER for taking Affidavits in the Court of Queen's Bench for the Counties of York and Peel, Conveyancer, &c., Blenheim, Ont. June 3, 1859. 1f-16

W. MOBLEY,
CONVEYANCER AND LAND AGENT,
Representative in the County of York,
Office on Yonge Street.
Aurora, 25th May, 1859. 1f-17

J. SEXTON,
WATCH and Clock Maker, Main Street Newmarket, All kinds of Watches and Clocks repaired in order, and Warranted.
Newmarket, September 9, 1859. 1f-32

BIBLE DEPOSITORY.
BIBLES and Testaments can be had at Society's prices, upon application to Thomas Nixon, at the Bible Depository, opposite Hamilton Hotel.
Newmarket, March 26, 1859. 1f-10

GEORGE B. HUTCHCROFT,
Wagon, Carriage & Sleigh Maker,
Main Street Newmarket. All Orders executed with dispatch.
Newmarket, P. S. 6th, 1859. 1f-v5n1

New Waggon and Carriage Shop.
THE undersigned respectfully intimates to his friends and the public generally that he has lately opened a

WAGON AND CARRIAGE SHOP.
In his new premises, Blenheim Street, near the Catholic Church, where he will be prepared to execute all orders with which he may be favored, with neatness, durability and dispatch.
Cell and examine the work and hear the prices before purchasing elsewhere.
ROBERT MURRAY.
Newmarket, May 29, 1859. 1f-17

DR. BENTLEY,
PHYSICIAN, SURGEON AND ACCOUCHEUR,
NEWMARKET.
Office—Water Street, foot of Main Street.
Feb. 20, 1857. 1f-3

Just Printed,
AND for Sale at the Office, BLANK MARRIAGE CERTIFICATES, adapted to the use of Ministers of all Denominations. Price is per dozen, or 63d per 100.
Newmarket, March 26, 1857.

RAILROAD HOTEL,
NEW MARKET.

THE proprietor having again resumed the above HOTEL respectfully intimates to the travelling public that the premises have undergone thorough repairs, and he is now prepared for the reception of guests. The Hotel contains Lodgings of the best quality, and the Landlord well supplied.
JAS. FORSYTH.
Newmarket, Oct. 14, 1857. 1f-37

Newmarket Iron Foundry.
JAMES ALLAN begs to return thanks for past favors, and to intimate that he is prepared to cast STOVES, SUGAR KETTLES, MACHINE CASTINGS, and other articles usually required in his line of business.
A number of SUGAR KETTLES, and STOVES, PLOUGHS, on hand for sale.
Newmarket, February 10th, 1851. 1f-1

PURE COD LIVER OIL,
Can be Obtained at
Dr. NISBET'S Medical Hall,
NEWMARKET.

HAVING just received a large supply; also, the following: Goulton's Indian Root Pills, Holloway's Goulton and Pills, Bala's Relief, Pain Expeller, Goulton's Kidney Pills, Goulton's Liver Pills, Goulton's Catarrh Pills, Goulton's Hemorrhoid Pills, Goulton's Piles, Goulton's Antidysentery Pills, Eye Salve, Ointment and Long Wort and Cherry Pectoral. The above are warranted genuine from the respective proprietors.
Newmarket, March 25th, 1854. 1f-6

SELECT PREPARATORY SCHOOL.
ON and after January 15th, Mrs. Hooper, wife of Rev. Joseph Hooper, will prepare children under 8 years of age, (with her own little boys) for the most advanced schools.
For terms, &c., apply at her residence, Main Street.
Newmarket, Dec. 30th, 1858. 1f-16

S. M. JARVIS,
Barrister and Solicitor in Chancery
VICTORIA HALL—TORONTO.
BRANCH Office in Newmarket conducted by J. F. McArthur, Esq.
Newmarket, Feb. 24, 1859. 1f-130

FLOUR FOR SALE.
THE undersigned begs to intimate to the citizens of Newmarket and vicinity, that he keeps constantly on hand for sale, a very

New Tailor Shop!
THE undersigned respectfully informs the inhabitants of NEWMARKET and VICINITY, that he has commenced business in the Tailoring Line in the Shop belonging to the late John T. Stokes, opposite Simpson & Dunspaugh's Main Street, where, by close application to business, and steady prices, he hopes to meet a share of public patronage.
ALL ORDERS PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO, and carried out to order on the shortest notice, in any style.
A. CRAWFORD.
Newmarket, June 29, 1859. 1f-39

Blanchard Directory.
John T. Stokes,
ARBITRATOR, &c., &c., Sharon, Canada West. Blenheim, Jan. 25, 1856. 1f-21

T. Bishop & Son,
BRICK-LAYERS, Plasterers and Stone Masons,
Dealers in Lime, &c., &c.
Main Street, Newmarket, May 7, 1857. 1f-14

A. BOULTBEE,
BARRISTER, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c., &c., Newmarket.
Newmarket, Oct. 20th, 1855. 1f-36

D. MOORE,
BARRISTER, Solicitor in Chancery, Attorney, Conveyancer, &c., &c., Office—In the New Court House, next to the County Council Office, Toronto.
Toronto, June 8, 1857.

JOHN R. JONES,
BARRISTER-at-Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, &c., &c., Office in Elgin Building, corner of Yonge and Adelaide Streets, Toronto.
Toronto, June 29, 1855. 2f-19

NORTH RICHARDSON,
CONVEYANCER, Land Agent, &c., &c., Canada. Counselor in the Queen's Bench. Office—Old Simcoe Street, opposite the Woolen Factory, where he may be consulted at all hours, except when absent on professional business.
Newmarket, May 14, 1856. 1f-1

INTERNATIONAL
Life Assurance Society of London,
Capital—Half-a-Million Sterling.
ROBERT H. SMITH,
Agent.
Newmarket, Nov. 3, 1855. 1f-41

DR. PLYNE,
PHYSICIAN, SURGEON AND ACCOUCHEUR,
RESPECTFULLY informs the public, that he has REMOVED to his new premises on Goulton Street, opposite the Woolen Factory, where he may be consulted at all hours, except when absent on professional business.
Newmarket, May 14, 1856. 1f-15

DR. HACKETT,
PHYSICIAN, SURGEON, ACCOUCHEUR, &c., &c.
RESIDENCE—Prospect Street, (Garbath Hill), Newmarket.
Newmarket.

ROBERT BRODIE,
BUILDING, &c., &c.,
RETURNING thanks for the liberal patronage bestowed during the past few years, respectfully intimates that he is now prepared to contract for the ERECTION OF BUILDINGS, and when required, find all Materials. Shop on Water Street.
Newmarket, Oct. 9th, 1855. 1f-30

E. D. ROGERS,
JOINTER AND CARPENTER,
RETURNING thanks for the liberal patronage conferred during the past few years, in this place, would respectfully intimate that he is prepared to contract for the ERECTION OF BUILDINGS, of all descriptions—and furnish materials or otherwise, as may be agreed upon. He keeps constantly on hand, a good supply of Sash and Doors. All orders executed in a neat and substantial manner, and with dispatch.
Newmarket, Sept. 24, 1857. 1f-31

William B. Sullivan,
BARRISTER and Attorney at Law, Solicitor in Chancery, Conveyancer, Notary Public, &c., &c., Office—No. 2 Toronto Street, second door south of Post Office, Toronto, &c., &c.
November 4th, 1858. 1f-38

RYAN & HALL,
CARRIAGE BUILDERS, AND
PROVINCIAL LAND SURVEYORS.
Office—Newmarket, County of York.
JOHN RYAN. H. W. HALL.
December 25, 1856. 1f-17

A. J. McCRACKEN,
CARRIAGE MAKER.
IN tendering thanks for past favors, he now intimates to his friends that he has on hand a general assortment of

CARRIAGES.
Which, for neatness and durability, cannot be surpassed in the Province.
All Wood-Work Warranted. Repairing done in a neat and substantial manner.
Newmarket, July 1st, 1857. 1f-11

W. BOWDEN,
Carpenter, Joiner, Cabinet and Veneer.
Main St. Newmarket.

ALL orders respectfully attended to, and charges moderate.
Newmarket, Aug. 18, 1858. 1f-28

Hides! Hides! Hides!
THE Subscriber is prepared to pay CASH for Hides.
THOMAS NIXON.
Newmarket, Dec. 9th, 1858. 1f-43

TO LET,
A New and comfortable Dwelling in the Village of Church Hill—two miles from LeRoy Station. There are no stores in the neighborhood; there were three formerly, in the Village.
JAMES SLOAN.
Church Hill, April 23, 1859. 1f-11

Time, Lime.
JUST RECEIVED, A Cargo of Fresh Rocked Lime, for sale Cheap for Cash, at the Newmarket Station.
T. BOTSFOED.
Newmarket, June 2, 1859. 1f-10

To be Let, or for Sale,
A New and comfortable Dwelling in the Village of Church Hill, with one quarter Acre of Land, on Hamilton Corner, one mile from Aurora Station, 2nd Con. of Whitby. There is an excellent well of water on the premises. For particulars, apply to THOS. REYNOLDS.
Whitby, Sept. 16, 1859. 1f-33

MAGISTRATE'S BLANKS,
Of all descriptions, on hand for sale. Apply at the NEW ERA OFFICE.
Newmarket, June 29, 1859.

Hutchinson Directory.
Dr. ESTEN,
NOTARY Public, Provincial Land Surveyor, Conveyancer, and Agent for the Life Association of Montreal.
MAIN STREET, NEWMARKET.
December 1st, 1858. 1f-33

UNITY FIRE & UNITY
GENERAL INSURANCE ASSOCIATIONS,
OF ENGLAND.
Capital, £2,500,000 Sterling.
J. W. MARSDEN,
Agent Newmarket.
Oct. 23, 1858.

David G. Hovey,
House, Sign, Carriage and Ornamental Painter.
MILL-ST., NEWMARKET.

SHOP—Adjoining Wright's Hotel, where orders will be received and promptly executed.
Newmarket, Oct. 27, 1859. 1f-37

Rozors, Scissors and Knives,
GROUND and set on the shortest notice, and on reasonable terms, by
G. A. WALLACE.
Barber Shop,
2 Doors North of M. W. Bogart's Store, Newmarket, November 10th, 1858. 1f-39

Dr. D. E. BEYMOUR,
HOMOEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN.
OFFICE—West side Main-st., near the New Era building, Newmarket, C. W.
July 7, 1859. 1f-21

WESTERN ASSURANCE COMPANY,
Chartered by Act of Parliament.
Capital 100,000.
Home Office Toronto.
President, J. G. GILMER.
Vice President, THOS. HAWORTH.
DIRECTORS, W. HENDERSON, R. LEWIS, T. P. ROBERTS, M. P. HAYES, ROBT. STANTON, Esq., & Treasr.

The Subscriber has been duly appointed Agent in Newmarket for the above Company, and will give personal attention to parties desirous of effecting Insurance etc.
THOMAS NIXON.
Newmarket, Feb. 17, 1851. 1f-2

CAKES! CAKES!
CAKES of all description, can now be had cheap, at the Newmarket Bakery, nearly opposite the New Era Office.
Newmarket, Dec. 3, 1859. 1f-45

C. Mortimer,
PHYSICIAN, SURGEON AND ACCOUCHEUR.
AURORA.

A FRESH supply of Drugs, Chemicals, Medicines, &c., &c., Aurora, March 16, 1859. 1f-5

LOOK HERE.
If You Want a Good CARRIAGE,
CALL AT
A. J. McCRACKEN'S,
WHICH can always be found a superior article, with all the late improvements, including a SELF-OILING BOX.

Lately patented, which prevents the necessity of repairing the wheel to roll your Carriage. Simple in its construction, can be easily attached to Wagons or Carriages, at a small cost.
Call and examine. It will satisfy yourselves of its utility.
Newmarket, March 22, 1859. 1f-6

Whiskey! Whiskey!
DOMESTIC AND TODDY.
Of Excellent Quality, by the Barrel, Gallon or Quart. For Sale cheap by JOHN BENTLEY.
1f-21

A CARD.
MRS. McCracken
RESPECTFULLY announces to the Ladies of Newmarket and vicinity, that she is prepared to

Stamp Embroidery and Binding,
Of any pattern or design. Orders respectfully solicited.
N. B.—Mrs. McC. will also teach Mrs. L. L. Williams's system of Dress Cutting by Measure.
Newmarket, July 7, 1859. 3f-21

Shops to Let.
TWO SMALL SHOPS to Let, on Main Street—in a business locality. For particulars apply to
V. V. SOUTHAUD, Builder.
Newmarket, July 7, 1859. 1f-21

SIMPSON & DUNSPAUGH,
No. 35, Elgin-st., East Toronto.
IMPORTERS, Wholesale and Retail Dealers in Drugs, Medicines, Chemicals,
Paints, Oils, Dye-Stuffs,
Colours, Varnishes, Brushes,
Saddlery, Trunks, &c., &c.
Patent Druggists, Zinc Paints,
Artists' Materials, Essences,
Fancy Goods, Perfumery, &c. Pure Wines and Liquors for Medicinal Purposes.
Toronto, July 20th, 1859. 1f-23

W. C. ADAMS,
Surgeon Dentist, 52 King-street East, south side, third door west from Church-street.
All operations in Dentistry carefully and skillfully performed.
Toronto, July 18, 1859. 1f-18

NORTH AMERICAN
HOTEL,
MAIN STREET, NEWMARKET,
CHAS. BRETHERTON, Proprietor.

THE above Commodious Establishment has been recently re-fitted and furnished for the accommodation of guests. The proprietor respectfully solicits a call from his many old friends, while visiting Newmarket.
Newmarket, July 25th, 1859. 1f-24

MAGISTRATE'S BLANKS,
Of all descriptions, on hand for sale. Apply at the NEW ERA OFFICE.
Newmarket, June 29, 1859.

Poetry.
LINES.
Suggested on the Death of the Infant of Mr. C. . .
By H. . .

A little lad of graceful mould,
Was just beginning to unfold
His tiny limbs to the sun,
And sip the early dew of morn.

He grew with a wide portance,
With many a flower of fragrance rose;
But sickly shades o'ercame the ground,
And poisonous weeds were strewn around.

The lovely plant, too pure for earth,
He thought it was of angel birth,
Taken from a heavenly realm,
To beautify this mortal scene.

"Fare ye well, for soon the Gardener came,
And bore him back to heaven again;
In sorrow o'er the broken vase,
Transplanted to the native skies,
Fair exiles of Paradise;
'Twill bloom in fresher beauty now,
Where living waters gently flow."
Newmarket, Sept. 1859.

BAPTISM.
O! was my Saviour understood,
He is the author of all good;
By him alone we live, and see
What things have been and yet will be.

He is our Judge and doth baptize—
As he doth call the dead to rise;
As he renews all ages past,
And makes the first to be the last.

"Thine alone the soul doth live,
He gives the mind a listening ear;
And every heart doth receive,
That hears his word—his way pursue.
He in the heart doth find a place,
To sow in man the seeds of grace;
And he plants and gathers in,
And saves the soul from every sin.

Then do we know that Christ's word,
In mind he conquers all our foes;
And he doth righteous garments wear,
Clear as the sun or morning star.
He makes our lives again new—
His Father's will he doth pursue;
Nor spurns garments doth he wear,
To every set he's bright and clear.

No praise doth with him join,
He's living in this present time;
In Adam all the living sleep,
Like him, we all have cause to weep.
Till Jesus to our soul return
To teach us, all have cause to mourn.
And him that doth of wisdom boast,
Has never known the Holy Ghost—
Blessed with the Father and the Son,
Knows not what's been, or is to come.
There's many preaching, teaching us,
They truly give us light to see;
The planters are again sown,
And they can teach and can chastise;
And ancient garments they can wear,
Without the Scriptures would be bare,
Oh! what a doleful noise they make,
The heavens would be the earth doth shake;
And then that faith a sandy shore,
Is often moving in their name.
But he's baptized that never moves,
But every time he still improves.
It's not the dust the Lord doth cast,
It's the heart from death doth rise,
And every sin doth God chastise;
And this is called the coming day,
When all our sins shall flee away."
D. WILSON.
Sharon, Sept. 22, 1859.

Literature.
Annie Gordon's Love.
BY BELLE FLORENCE.
S—, Feb. 18th, 18—.

To you, and you only, dear Mabel, have I always opened my heart. I have thought that the period of my life had passed in which the passions of my impulsive soul had power to move me. With the history of my early, and my only love, you are already acquainted.

Al! yes, Mabel, you were my friend, my counsellor, my comfort during these trying years. You know how earnestly, how entirely I loved Henry Wilton; and how I buried that love in my heart, and turned coldly from him, when I discovered that my youngest sister—the sweet, gentle Nellie—had, despite her eager struggles to retain it, yielded her heart to his keeping. How that, chilled by my coldness, he turned to her; how her gentle, quiet nature—her pure, stainless soul, won his heart; how he loved her, and how, when my own heart was consumed, I stood by her side, calm and cold as a statue, and listened to the words that bound these two lives together.

A few years afterwards our father died, and that same year a second daughter was given to Nellie and Henry. With the advent of the little stranger the mother began to fade; and soon it was evident that that fatal disease which had taken our dear mother from us when we were children, was feeding upon the life-stories of our darling Nellie. Then I went to her; and as week after week passed, and I saw her slowly but surely fading, and witnessed the untiring devotion with which her husband watched so tenderly, affectionately, yet sadly over her, who had been my sister's idol since the days of early childhood, my heart went out to him with a sister's pure, passionate love; and I thanked "our Father" for giving my darling sister so generous a protector.

When I saw him force back his heart's own bitter agony, that he might speak cheering words to his dying wife, pointing her to the blissful fields of Paradise, which stretch so gloriously beyond the dark river, where the pure spirit would await the coming of earth's loved ones; and, pointing with an angel eloquence to the equatorial region, till the pale features of the dying one grew radiant, and the fading eyes brilliant in participation of the glories described; I blushed for my own unworthy love, and felt that, for a thousand worlds, I would not come between those two hearts.

When she placed her two darling children in my arms, and bade me be a mother to them, even as I had been to her, I clasped the tender limbs to my bosom; and kneeling by the couch of the dying mother, I solemnly and devoutly consecrated myself to the work of fearfully, guiding, watching over them tenderly, affectionately, faithfully, as I know she would do could she be spared to them. And when we stood by her death-bed, and she placed my hand in that of her husband, and her lips moved, as though she would speak; but the angel of death struck off the fetters of mortality, and her spirit sought its rest.

You stood by my side, Mabel, when we laid her reverently in the churchyard; you witnessed the overwhelming agony of the bereaved husband, and you of me I breathed the emotion of my soul as I entered upon my life-work.

Ten years are passed, Mabel, and they have been years of peace and comparative happiness. I have been steadily, unwaveringly accomplishing my life-mission. If, at times, my heart has yearned for a nearer and dearer place in the love of Henry Wilton, I have stifled that feeling by believing that the place Nellie once occupied in his heart, is now filled by the spirit presence of the sainted one.

But an event has occurred, Mabel, that has stirred the ashes of my dead love, and the buried corpse has arisen from its grave, and re-appears again to be entombed. A spirit, a dashing widow has come to me, who, it is rumored, was the object of Henry's boyish love. She had laid siege to his heart, and I fear, is making a conquest. I know that he often visits her, and it is said they are engaged, and will be married in the early spring. She has four children—a daughter some twenty years of age, and three pert, dashing daughters.

Al! Mabel, if this is true, I cannot stay here; for, though I might carry still further the work of self-satisfaction, for the sake of my dear children, I feel that I shall not be welcome. Heaven forbid that I misjudge her; but she seems to me haughty, odd and heartless, and looks with a covetous eye upon our pleasant home. I cannot, I will not believe it. As yet I have learned nothing from Henry, and it is a subject I can never broach to him.

I have carefully concealed these things from my darlings. Heaven avert the blow that threatens more fully to develop. 'Till then, Mabel, pray for me; pray; and write to me, Mabel, kindly, tenderly, gently as of old. Your unworthy

ANNE.
S—, April 20th, 18—.

Two months are passed, Mabel, in which I have suffered years of agony; but it is gone now, and my heart is too happy to dwell upon its past sorrows. Until to-night it seemed certain that the peace of our home circle was about to be invaded. I will tell you how it came about. Henry has regularly visited the widow. She seemed to possess a strangely fascinating power over him, and no doubt, was sure of accomplishing her purpose. She even went so far as to boast of the conquest, and hint that when she became the mistress of Henry Wilton's home, there would be surprising changes wrought. That the house should be thoroughly repaired; and that "that old maid would have to leave instantly, and those little misses learn that there were persons in the house of equal consequence with themselves." Fortunately, this came to Henry's ears, and had the effect to dispel the charm she had thus thrown artfully around him, and to enable him to study her character closely and impartially.

Many times, of late, upon looking up suddenly, I have encountered Henry's eager, inquiring gaze. After tea, this evening, instead of going out, as usual, he retired to his library. "When I had seen my darlings sweetly sleeping in their bed, I went to my room." For some time I listened to the sound of Henry's steps, as he paced up and down the floor of the library, which was directly under my room. A sickening feeling of despair came over me, as I remembered that I had suffered, and thought how I must continue to suffer till death should release me. I almost distrust the wisdom and goodness of that Providence which had permitted my life to be thus lighted up, and, bowing my head upon the table, I wept bitter, scalding tears. I was aroused by the entrance of the servant, who came to say that Mr. Wilton wished to see me in the library. Without lifting my head, I replied that I would come down soon. When again alone I rose, bathed my eyes, and strove to conceal all trace of grief. I summoned all the energy of soul to meet him whom I had daily met in the family circle for many years. I felt sure that his object in sending for me was to tell me of his intention of marrying the widow; and I trembled that I should not have strength to bear it without betraying my own sentiments; but composing myself as best I could, I went down.

Henry was still pacing up and down the room, but, as I entered, he paused, and handed me to a seat; then, without saying a word, resumed his walk. I waited a few minutes for him to speak; then, fearing there might have been some mistake, I asked if he had sent for me.

"But are you not engaged to her?" I asked.

"I have never mentioned the subject of marriage to her," he replied; "but I might have been led to do so had I not soon heard of your death."

"Your words have been a burden from my heart," said I. "I feared she was not the person to whom you were happy, and with whom to trust your children. Then we are to live on in the old way, are we, Henry?"

"Annie," and his voice trembled violently, "you have supplied the place of a faithful, devoted mother to my children; why not become such a reality?" You have been a mother, loving sister, and would your soul revolt from sustaining a nearer—a dearer relation? I have long wished to say this to you, but something in your manner led me to believe that such a proposal would be distasteful to you; and as I remembered that, when I would have sought your love, you turned coldly from me, I feared that such a proposition would render situation here disagreeable, and I refrained from mentioning the subject. Even now I have little to expect but your rejection. I loved you first, Annie; but your coldness chilled me, while the gentle, winning grace of our angel Nellie drew my heart to her. Can you forgive the alienation of the past few months, and accept the heart that has long regarded you with the deepest affection?"

Then, Mabel, with my heart resting upon his bosom, I told him all. I do not know what language I used; I only know that the most secret recesses of my soul were thrown open for his inspection, and that I laid the burden of my heart, had so long borne at his feet. It was a long story, and interrupted by many sobs and tears; but he listened in silence, only clasping me closer to his heart as I proceeded. Long, long I lay sobbing upon his bosom.

Mabel, you know what it is to be beloved by your heart's chosen one! But you have never buried loved a cold corpse in a deep grave in your heart, over which you have planted many sweet flowers of memory, and watered them with showers of unshed tears, till it seemed that your very heart's blood were turned to bitter gall. You have never seen the grave open, and your dead loved one spring forth, a living, vital essence, and with one wild, glad bound, meet and embrace the object that first called it into existence. Then, Mabel, you cannot fully conceive of the intensity of the upgushing emotions that filled my soul as I listened to words of endearment from his lips, and felt the loving pressure of his arm.

Morning had already begun to dawn in the east when I sought my chamber, but not to sleep. Joy like mine knows no fatigue, and I would not till I had told you the story of my greatest happiness. On the tenth of May we are to repeat before the world, the vows that last night were registered in Heaven, and over which I am sure the gentle spirit of our Nellie will rejoice, if she is permitted to behold them. Come to me then, Mabel, and bring your husband and sweet children. I wish you all to be participants in my joy.

Just now a strange ringlet falls upon my paper, among whose dark waves are mingled a few threads of silver; but I feel that my heart is young as when, in the freshness of early womanhood, I first gave it to the keeping of Henry Wilton. The bright rays of the morning sun are streaming in through my window, and my pet canary is halting it with a joyous burst of melody, which chimes harmoniously with my own glad heart-song. And now I hear the sound of springing feet coming lightly down the stairs, and my dear children bound into my room, with a glad good-morning for their "aunt." Sweet darlings! I feel that they are now truly mine. Oh! how full of life, and joy, and sadness, I this morning feel to be this precious existence. I hasten to offer up my prayer of praise to the great Giver of all these blessings.

Ever your
ANNE.

Miscellany.
Our Brother that Died.
Long ago, on a golden Autumn,
When the reapers bound the sheaves,
And the North wind from the forest
Stripped the leaves from the trees;
Then across the golden threshold,
Came the "angel reaper," bold,
And he wrapped our little brother,
Closely in his mantle fold.

But, by faith, we know he took him,
To beyond the ether life;
Where the clouds of gold and azure
Hide the eternal gates of heaven,
And we know, by faith's bright river,
In grassy pastures, sweetly fair,
Circles of glory and glory wait,
To greet each one our brother there.

Meet him on the shores immortal,
Where life's flowers forever bloom;
When we, too, have crossed the portals
Each in closing of the tomb.
Through life's chaina has one link lives
Which wealth cannot rust,
Yes, this thought sweet life's link gives,
Pain can never reach him there.

An envious man waxes lean with the faintness of his neighbour.
Religion is the best armour in the world, but the worst cloak.
Some people take more care to hide their wisdom than their folly.
Those who aim only at accomplishments will accomplish but little.
The pen of the tongue should be dipped in the ink of the heart.
Judge stuff by the selvage, and the daughter by the mother.
Better ride on an ass that carries you,
than a horse that throws you.
His is a happy memory that forgets nothing as soon as the unkindness of others.
Flatterers only visit a man up, as it is said the eagle does the tortoise, to get something by its fall.
If the best man's faults were written on his forehead, it would make him pull his hat over his eyes.
ORATORY.—I think the best part of oratory is plainness—to make every word and sentence well understood.—Tillotson.

Honor the good, that they may love you; to civil to the bad, that they may hate thee.

"This best way to treat slander is to let it alone and say nothing about it." Incondies when fed on silent contempt.
Friends are as companions on a journey who ought to aid each other to persevere in the road to a happier life.
If thou wouldst converse profitably, thou must endeavor to be among those that either may be made better, or else make thee better.

Trust in God.
Let us treasure up our experiences of God's faithful and tender care during the whole course of our lives, that they may be a great comfort to us in our old age.
Let us carefully consider the examples of others, whose happy death we witness, or of which we hear, or read; let us lay our fears, and encourage our hearts; let us pray daily for this important season of faith and repentance, and a conscientious attention to the duties of our stations; and let us watch and pray against anxious and distressing fears. The Lord will provide for our passage over this Jordan when the time comes; yes, He will come and meet us, and by His animating presence, invigorate our faith and hope, till we join the triumphant multitude that in the Canon above are singing the praises of their Great Deliverer.—
Scott.

County Court and Court of Quarter Sessions.
THURSDAY, Sept. 22.
The Court of Quarter Sessions opened today at one o'clock, the Hon. S. B. Harrison presiding.

PRESENTMENT OF THE GRAND JURY.
On this morning taking his seat on the bench,
the Grand Jury entered the Court and made the following presentment:—
"We the Grand Jurors of our Sovereign
Lady the Queen, in making the usual presentment to your Honor, beg to say that, although as much pleasure in being able to state that at the present Quarter Sessions our la-

Furniture Warehouse.

constantly on hand a large Assortment of HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE—Consisting of Black Walnut and Mahogany Sideboards, Bureaus, Sofas, Tables, Chairs, and other articles usually required.
 PATENT BEDSTEADS, of various
 Descriptions; also, Coffin Plates, Mirrors,
 Vases, &c, kept for Sale.
 As the subscriber keeps COFFINS ready made, he is prepared to furnish Funerals, on the shortest notice.
 Newmarket, February 18, 1854.

J. & H. WANNED,
REG respectfully to intimate to the inhabitants of Newmarket and surrounding communities

they have recently opened a CABINET FURNITURE WARE ROOM,
Hotford's Old Stand—Main Street.
And are now prepared to execute all orders with which they may be favored in the newest style, and at low prices.
ALL WORK WARRANTED.
Newmarket, Feb. 24, 1859. 16-2
Newmarket Steam Mill

THE undersigned would respectfully inform the

TUESDAY, FRIDAY and SATURDAY, that customers may take their grists home with them; and may depend on its being done promptly and first class work.

B. W. HOWARD,
B. WEST,
WM. WALLIS.

T. BOTSFORD,

Newmarket, April 13, 1859. H-S

THE subscriber has recently established regular Depots for Lime, manufactured at the Holland
Landing Kiles, and sold at prices to suit the times:
viz:—
Newmarket—Mathew Kennedy, Agent.
Aurora—John Webb, Agent.
Lime always on hand at the Kiles, and of the best quality.

HENRY BACON.
Holland Landing, June 23, 1852. (1-2)

Labour Saved!

The Public are notified that the subscribers have been appointed agent for Newmarket and Vicinity, for the sale of the Canadian Family Sewing Machine

Families are invited to call and see them in operation. Every information will be given, and parties satisfied that the Machines are full what they are represented.

The Best Family Machine Now in Use

JOHN TOWNLEY,
Merchant Tailor, on Timothy St. in rear of Sibley's.

Newmarket, Jan. 18, 1859.

THE undersigned has now on hand a large quantity of
WINDOW SASH & PANELLED DOORS
Which he is prepared to sell at the lowest remunerative prices. He is also prepared to manufacture any description of Sash or Panel work on the shortest notice, or erect Buildings either by Contract or otherwise. Also, having a superior set of JACKSCREWS.

16-12 Together with Tackles, Capses, &c., for removing or raising Buildings, is prepared to take contracts for the same.

WH. V. SOUTHARD, (15-
Newmarket, July 7, 1857.
TO BUILDERS!
PARTIES wishing to Build, Move Turn House Buildings, of any description, would well to call on
Stephen Webster
As he has all the tools necessary for the above purposes, which he will let on the following terms,
J. S. Southard, No. 10, 8, Grand

Sack Netting, each,	2.00	2	0	per doz.
Rollers per set	0	50	0	"
Tackles,	0	10	0	"

Being only one-half the price usually charged place. The undersigned is also ready to contract for the erection, moving or raising of Buildings of all descriptions.

STEPHEN WEBSTER.
Newmarket, July 17, 1857

FOR SALE,
A STEAM SAW-MILL, in good running order, and 75 Acres of Land, 15 of which are cleared, containing one Plank House and one Log House, Blacksmith Shop and Stable, situated in the Town of Newmarket, N. H.

also, For particulars apply to the subscriber on premises.

CHAS. D. WILLSON,
Quernville, Sept 19,

NEWMARKET
Stove, Copper, Tin, Iron
and Brass

WAREHOUSE.

In returning thanks for the liberal patronage shown to the firm of ROBEY & SONS, the undersigned respectfully intimates to their customers and the public generally that the business will henceforth be conducted by
J. & J. HODGKINSON
 And having lately purchased these commodious premises lately occupied by Mrs. Susan Dyer, Shop has been removed there, where will be constantly on hand a large assortment of

COOKING, PARLOR AND BOX STOVE.
Of the newest designs and latest patterns; Japan-
ned and Pressed Tin Ware; Cistern Pumps,

Lead Piping.
Copper, Tin and Sheet Iron Ware manufactured to order on the shortest notice and on the most reasonable terms.
Persons wishing to purchase anything in the above line of business, will find it greatly to their advantage to call and examine this Stock before acting elsewhere.
Old Cast Iron, Copper, Brass, Pewter, Lard Rags, Sheepskins, Furs of every description, Farm Produce, taken in exchange for Goods.
J. & J. HODGE

to call and examine this Stock before asking elsewhere.
Old Cast Iron, Copper, Brass, Pewter, &c.

NT I ins will
A. M
P. M

Rage, Sheepskins, Furs of every quality.
Farm Produce, taken in exchange for Goods.
J. & J. HODGE
Newmarket, Dec. 25, 1856.

THE NEW ERA
PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING
ERASTUS JACKSON,
Printer and Publisher, No. 101 N. Main St.

ins will

THE NEW ERA

15

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY MORNING
ERASTUS JACKSON,
 At his Office, corner of Mill and Main Streets,
 NEWMARKET.
 Terms—75 Cts. per year in Advance of Monthly paid.
RATES OF ADVERTISING.
 Six lines and under, first insertion, 10¢
 Each subsequent insertion, 5¢
 One year, 50¢
 One year, 50¢
 One year, 50¢

RATES OF ADVERTISING.

if 16	Six lines and under, first interline,	0	2
	Each subsequent interline,	0	0
PROOF	Six to ten lines, first insertion,	0	3
	For subsequent insertion	0	0
4.	For each line above ten,	0	0
3, at re-	Each subsequent insertion,	1	5
	Cards, per year,-	1	5
or de.	(7) Advertisements, accompanied by written instructions, will be inserted till full rate is charged accordingly.		